Knowing God

In today's reading Paul again uses the word 'mystery'. What does that mean for us in truly knowing God? The following is most helpful:

'We should understand the force of the word mystery. It is something which is beyond human ability to find out, not open to human reason. It must be made known to us by revelation from God. Paul could not imply that knowing the mystery of God means that we can plumb the depths of God's mind and being for he exclaims: 'Oh! The depth of riches of the wisdom and knowledge of God! How unsearchable his judgments, and hid paths beyond tracing out! (Rom 11:33). No, we cannot know God as he knows himself. But we can know God truly as he has revealed himself in Jesus Christ. All the treasures of wisdom and knowledge are hidden in Christ! Do we really believe that? They are hidden in the sense that we must search them out and know them. We can never know them all for Christ is true God as well as true man. But again, what we can know we can know truly.'
