6th August 2017

PROVERBS AND A JUST SOCIETY

Most people want to live in a just and fair society where all are working for the common good. The Book of Proverbs touches on almost every aspect of life for both the individual and the community, of the choices we make in following the way of wisdom or the way of foolishness. It reminds us that our actions have consequences for good or for ill for others and ourselves.

So what does this all have to do with a just society? I think a society that is essentially just and fair is a society that rewards those who act wisely and who are concerned about justice, truth, and a fair go for all. Those who are civically minded will be blessed and do well.

On the other hand those who work for their own self-interest at the expense of others, who use and abuse will be undone and called to account. We need to pray that our society will continue to be such a society because there is a very real possibility that will change in the years to come as God gets pushed to the sidelines.

Michael Stuart

THIS WEEKS READINGS:

MISSIONS

Please pray for Supporting Heart.

"We're a drop-in centre located in Mae Sai, a town in Northern Thailand bordering Burma. We serve the street women and children of Mae Sai... They have been subjected to horrific experiences... Beaten, burned, tortured, trafficked, raped, starved, shot, forced into drugs... Five to ten year olds favoured by paedophiles... Sold into brothels and become SEX SLAVES!" Frank Smith, founder of Supporting Heart

For more info see Meg Godwin, or go to www.burmastreetkids.org
